THE STATE FAIR .- Persons from all parts of the State continue to come into the city, and are entering articles of all kinds for exhibition at the Fair, which commences on Tuesday. It is said that the Monticello Guard, from Charlottesville, will visit Richmond during Fair-week, parade with the regiment and Cadets, and visit the Fair-Grounds. The grounds are now in good order, and articles are being sent out to be placed in position. On Tuesday the judges of award are to meet at 92 o'clock, receive their books, and inspect the articles on exhibition. The gates will be thrown open at 11 published on Monday.

The large dining-hall, with ice-cream and fruit saloon attached, under the grand stand at the Fair grounds have been rented by the ladies of Centenary Church during the approaching Fair.

THE POLITICAL MEETING IN NEW KENT .-The Radicals and negroes expected that Platt would address them at New Kent Courthouse on Thursday, and they turned out ceive them. He had promised to be on Hon. Mr. Goode. But he gave it out and bam did the best he could under the circumstances, but the negroes were disgusted because Platt seemed afraid to meet Mr. Goode, and many of them declared openly that they would not vote for him. Colonel Goode made a telling speech, which was received with great enthusiasm. He begged the Radicals to "trot out Platt and let him speak his piece," but he did not come to time. The Conservatives in New Kent and this city are jubilant, and teel assured of victory if all the good people of Mr. Goode's district will turn out on the 3d and vote the white man's ticket.

SOAPING THE CITY .- Mr. Frank D. Hatfield has well-nigh perfumed the entire city with his new sterling soap for the laundry. He is Colgate & Co.'s agent. He came to the city churches to-morrow except the fol- Riebmond last winter and soaped every member of the General Assembly. He has come again this season, and is now paying his compliments to everybody in the city. What a sanitarian ! He ought to be a member of the Board of Health. Mr. Hatfield is a public benefactor as well as a good advertiser. He pays a flying call to every household, but the good effects of his visit can be seen for months after he has gone. The new sterling soap is made for the southern market, and it is said to contain no unhealthful ingredient, or in its use injurious to clothes. But all this will be found out when it is tried by the Richmond house-

THE OATES COMIC OPERA .- The sale of ecured seats (at Johnston's) for the charming entertainments given by Mrs. Oates and her comic opera company commenced yesterday, and already a large number of tickets have been sold. She appears on Monday night, and will play "Madam Angot's Child."

[For the Dispatch.]

The Winter Provision for the Poor Seeing, Messrs. Editors, that this subject before the city authorities, I beg leave to make a suggestion, which I venture to think is worth their consideration. I think if each station from which charity is dispensed were made an intelligence office, at which persons in need of labor could register their wants that thereby the worthy poor could in many cases be found in work, and the lazy poor could be detected and expelled from the city A negro, for instance, male or female, who could get a place in the country should be denied all rations and other assistance from the town. It is generally believed that numbers of that race congregate each winter in Richmond, and subsist by thieving, eked out o'clock. The rest of the programme will be by public rations, until the warm weather and its avocations enable them to live more cheaply and get some work.

The mischief of this city bounty is very great. It not only collects the idle, who never can get work as long as they are permitted to live on other people's means, but it teaches them that they are entitled to a living at the hands of the white folks, revives their old visions of torty acres and a mule, and makes them mutinous, insolent, and criminal. This charity and the high with banners and in goodly numbers to re- public wages which were paid last fall to the very few that could be thus employed creahand and have a joint discussion with the ted the greatest discontent among the balance, especially in that portion of the counsent Colonel Popham to represent him. Pop- try so near this city as to feel the effect of city wages. It was remarked in their deportment long before there was any manifestation of it in acts, and the fuel of their discontent was fed by those who flocked to the city in such numbers that, to use the expression which was heard to escape from one of them, "the rag business"—the favorite trade of these Jazzaroni-" had ceased to be profitable."

The negro has been the victim of the pre vailing philanthropy-whereby I mean infidel humanitarianism-long enough. It has made him his own master-that is, the slave to his own vices-which it calls setting him free. It has deprived him of the advantages of religious worship by giving him separate church organizations-the heaviest responsibinty protestantism has ever assumed in this country-sad has thus remt ed him to devilworship. It has given him manbood suffrage -a fatal gift even to white people-and thereby put him up to the highest bidder. And now it would feed him, and thereby encourage him to a course of destructive idleness. Suppose now we try if we cannot get him a little work and force him to take it or quit the city. One consideration, I think, should recommend at least a trial of the plan. The improvident negro is now a source of double expense to the city. The town is taxed collectively to feed him in the winter; and then, again, citizens are taxed individually to make an election fund to buy his vote in the spring. I speak plainly, perhaps bluntly, Messrs. Editors; but we do buy his vote and a good many white in the winter, and the white laborer is employed in his place in the summer, there would be less groaning when respectability is called on to subscribe to the expenses (!) of an election. When a man who deliberately and of choice employs a negro in preference to a white man to do city work, public or private, except, of course, menial services, tells me he is a Conservative, I distrust his knowledge of his true position, for how can a Conservative consent to risk Radical rule that he may have his laborer at a little lower rate? And how can a city encourage a class of laborers which involves a relative excess of burden? I understand that one of the greatest and most salutary reforms of Petersburg under white rule has been wrought precisely in this direction. I do not think we can deport the race yet awhile, as you, and Mr. Stuart of Augusta, do, but I think their number and nuisance can be reduced in the city to the improvement of the morals, politics, and revenues thereof. Conservative Rally at Matoaca. [special telegram to the Dispatch.]

PETERSBURG, VA., October 23 .- There was great outpouring of the Chesterfield Conservatives this afternoon at Matoaca on the occasion of the barbecue and political speaking. Governor Walker, accompanied by W. W. Berry, W. S. Gilman, W. F. C. Gregory, and other gentlemen, reported promptly, and the speeches of the orators of the occasion were received with great enthusiasm by the crowd in attendance.

At night a tremendous gathering of the people, among whom were many ladies and citizens of Petersburg, assembled at Ettricks. A fine band of music was provided, and the platform erected for the occasion, and the grounds adjoining, were hung with lamps. E. S. Gregory, of Petersburg, opened the ball, and was followed by ex-Governor Walker, Mr. Berry, Mr. Gilman, and Major W. F. C. Gregory. Great enthusiasm was excited, and the assurance was given that the precinct would not poll a single Radical vote. The Governor and his party returned to the city to-night, and leave for Richmond given in prices and work. in the morning.

MOBILF. October 23 .- During the trial of Colonel Wetmore, one of the Sumter county prisoners, before United States Commisioner Gillette, a United States detective, chief prosecutor and witness for the Government, was instantly recognized by Admiral Raphael Semmes, who was present at the trial, as one of his crew of the Confederate States steamer Sumter. Hester, the man referred to, came forward and at once confessed the Admiral's recognition by offering his hand. Hester was appointed master mate by the Admiral, and at Gibraltar, while a midshipman was temporarily in charge of the steamer, this man Hester committed what the Admiral characterizes a most foul and brutal murder. He shot and killed a mess-mate who lay in his bunk, it is supposed, asleep. In the trial to-day it was a developed fact that subreenas for witnesses were issued by Commissioner Gillette, of Mobile, September 30 - more than two weeks tefore the alleged offence was committed.

Episcopal General Convention.

New York, October 23 .-- The Episcopal Convention Committee on Canons have reported, recommending the adoption of the iollowing: " Resolved (the House of Bishops concurring), That the following additional section be added to canon 20, tatle 1, of the use of the book of Common Prayer, section 2: If any bishop have reason to believe, or if amendments, leaving the constitution in that or more of his presbyters, that ceremonics or practices during the celebration of the Holy Communion, not ordered or authorized in the book of Common Prayer, and doubtful doctrines, have been introduced into the parish within his jurisdiction, and, as examples, the following are declared to be considered as such: A. Use of incense; B Placing, or carrying, or retaining a crucifix Communion in such a manuer as to expose them to the view of the people as objects toward which aderation is to be made; D. Any set of adoration of or towards On motion of the same gentleman the Sth | the elements of the Holy Communion, such all such like acts not authorized or allowed by the rubrics of the book of Common Prayerit shall be the duty of such bishop to summon the standing committee as his counsel matter."

The resolution further provides that in case the investigation proves that such doubt-On motion of Mr. Reddy, of Richmond, ful doctrines have been symbolized, the thanks were tendered the Catholic societies bishop shall admonish the minister of the of Baltimore for the magnificent reception parish to discontinue them, and should such admouition be disregarded it shall be the duty of the standing committee to cause him to be tried for a breach of his ordination yow. The report was made the special order for Monday.

England.

LONDON, October 23 .- The London newspapers unite in demanding that exemplary vengeance be visited upon Nana Sahib. The double-hull steamship Castillia, built to overcome the effects of the rough sea of the English channel, and intended to ply between Dover and Calais, has made a trial trip from Ramsgate to Cilais. She proved to be a most comfortable boat, neither rolling nor pitching.
